“The Holocaust did not begin in the gas chambers - it began with words.”

1. YEAR OVERVIEW

During the twelve-month period, from 1 October 2018 to 30 September 2019, there were 368 antisemitic incidents logged by volunteer Community Security Groups (CSGs), official Jewish state roof bodies, and the ECAJ. The total figure consists of 225 attacks and 143 threats.

In the previous 12-month period, ending 30 September 2018, these same bodies logged 366 incidents. Accordingly, there was only an incremental increase in the overall number of reported antisemitic incidents compared to the previous year. However, there was a marked increase in the numbers in some of the more serious categories of incidents.

The 30% year-on-year increase in reported incidents of verbal abuse, harassment and intimidation demonstrates that antisemites felt increasingly emboldened to behave in an aggressive, confrontational and menacing way towards Jews who were doing nothing more than going about their daily lives. Jews continued to be verbally abused and harassed around synagogues on a regular basis, especially over the Jewish Sabbath of Friday evening and Saturday, and on other Jewish holy days and festivals. These are periods when many Jews are congregating at, and walking to or from, synagogue, providing antisemites with an easy target for verbal abuse, harassment and intimidation.

Another of the outstanding features of incidents this year has been the more than doubling in the number of antisemitic graffiti incidents. The messages included in much of the graffiti often called for the murder of Jews: "Kill the Jews" or "Gas the Kikes". Graffiti supporting Hitler and Nazism was quite prolific, as expressed in words such as "Sieg Heil" and in symbols such as swastikas, SS bolts, crossed out Stars of David. Holocaust denial was another common theme. In contrast, as recorded in the 2018 Antisemitism Report, there were only two reported incidents of graffiti calling for the killing of Jews. Graffiti is seen by some as one way to measure the temperature of antisemitism.

There were 368 recorded antisemitic incidents in Australia during the year ending 30 September 2019. The total figure consists of 225 attacks and 143 threats.

30%

In 2019 there was a 30% spike in the number of reported incidents involving direct verbal abuse, harassment and intimidation. Up from 88 in 2018 to 114 in 2019.

The number of reported graffiti attacks more than doubled from 46 to 95.

The rise in antisemitic and Nazi sentiment is seen even more clearly online especially on sites used by the far-right, white supremacists, Nazis, and other racists. As many people in the far-right embrace the “white replacement” theory and place the blame on “the Jews” for the supposed demise and destruction of the European races, culture and civilisation, including in Australia, antisemitic discourse and acts have increased. Many subscribers to the theory of “white replacement” expressed support for violence, armed action, revolution, terrorism and race war.

Although the Christchurch massacre did not occur in Australia, it was committed by an Australian, Brenton Tarrant, who according to his online ‘manifesto’, believed in the “white replacement” theory. The massacre affected many white supremacists in Australia, with some applauding the act, others accusing Tarrant of being a Jewish agent to sow discord, while others condemned Tarrant out of concern that his crimes would set back the ethno-nationalist agenda.

There is an increasing evidence that those who wish harm to Jews are being inspired and their views reinforced online. One example is the post on 4chan by someone claiming he was about to massacre Jews at a named synagogue in Australia. This was posted just after a shooter in the US had attacked a synagogue.

Another prominent feature of the incidents this year was the inordinately high number of antisemitic emails. Many of these were by supporters of David Icke, the British professional conspiracy theorist and antisemite, who sought a visa to enter Australia, but was denied entry on character grounds. A second but more insidious series of emails denigrated Dr Kerryn Phelps MP and the Jewish community. These spoofed emails were sent to hundreds, perhaps thousands, of people across Australia. Although the content of the email showed signs that the composer may suffer from mental health issues, the emails’ messages were a contemporary re-working of medieval antisemitic tropes concerning “the Jews” as the spreaders of disease and plague and of corruption and as conspiring to harm humanity.

Over the last 12 months the anti-Israel campaign plodded along, largely bereft of energy. However, many of its supporters continued to express anti-Jewish hatred online. This was seen most clearly in comments made on social media pages of anti-Israel and pro-BDS groups and individuals. Many of their views reflected older anti-Jewish themes and tropes, such as belief in “Jewish bloodlust” and supposed Jewish control of the levers of power throughout the world.

Amongst religious communities, namely Christian and Muslim, there are pockets of people who expressed a generic disdain for and even hatred of Jews, either on theological grounds or, ostensibly, for political reasons. As was seen with Ihsas Khan, there are still people inspired by ideological hatred of Jews and who seek to harm or murder Jews. On the hand, there were signs of a significant rise in the number of leaders and members of other faith communities who reached out for positive engagement seeking to build relationships with the Jewish community, whether through interfaith dialogue or political cooperation in the fight against bigotry and in defence of religious freedom.

There were signs of an increasing recognition within the mainstream of Australian society, and within the media, of the rise in antisemitism, in Australia and around the Western world. Highlighting this is essential in creating the political will by government and other bodies to deal with the issue more effectively. There needs to be a more concerted and comprehensive effort to counter antisemitism and other forms of racism and bigotry. A major step towards this would be the establishment of a national data base for hate-motivated crimes, adoption of a definition of hate crime, education and training of police and others to enhance their ability to identify and deal with hate crime and hate incidents, and a body to advise government and police on these matters. In addition, a Commonwealth law along the lines of Section 93Z of the NSW law – against incitement and threats of violence – would be a welcome measure.

2. ANTISEMITIC INCIDENTS

Incidents Recorded

Antisemitic incidents are manifested through many different kinds of acts. As in the ECAJ's previous annual Antisemitism Reports, incidents have been categorized as set out in Table 1 below. Incidents are divided into eight categories. Four categories relate to physical attacks against persons or property (including direct verbal abuse, harassment and intimidation of people), and four categories relate to threats of physical harm to persons or property.

Criteria for Inclusion

Incidents are included as antisemitic attacks or threats using the definition of racist violence and the categories developed by the 1991 national inquiry into racially motivated violence conducted by the then Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission (HREOC).

Under-Reporting

A comparison with data revealed by the Gen17 survey indicates that many incidents of antisemitism in Australia occur but are not formally reported either to appropriate Jewish authorities or to the police. Thus, the statistics in this Report represent only a proportion of antisemitic incidents actually occurring in Australia.

Working Definition of Antisemitism

The most widely accepted definition of antisemitism by western governments, among others, is the 'Working Definition of Antisemitism' adopted by the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA) on 26 May 2016. The IHRA is an intergovernmental body composed of 33 member countries (including Australia), 1 liaison country, 8 observer countries, and 8 Permanent International Partners. For the purposes of this Report, the ECAJ uses the IHRA Working Definition of Antisemitism. The IHRA Working Definition of Antisemitism is reproduced in full at the end of this report.

Australia was admitted to full membership of the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA) on 4 June 2019. The IHRA's Working Definition of Antisemitism is reproduced in full on page 29.

3. MAINSTREAM MEDIA

The mainstream media, print and online, visual and audio, can be influential in transforming or reinforcing people's beliefs about a range of issues. All media are selective in the issues they cover, how issues are portrayed, and the slant given. In addition, the internet iterations of mainstream media publishers make possible an enormous volume of public commentary on media articles.

The expression of antisemitic hatreds in the mainstream media or in other public contexts, if not publicly contradicted and condemned by political and community leaders, has the effect of lending legitimacy and acceptability to such hatreds. This can lead to an emboldening of those who are hostile to Jews to go further in acting against Jews, and thus creates an atmosphere of intolerance, bigotry, fear and violence.

Examples of comments posted during the year on the social media sites of Channel 7, Channel 10, SBS, and SMH, include:

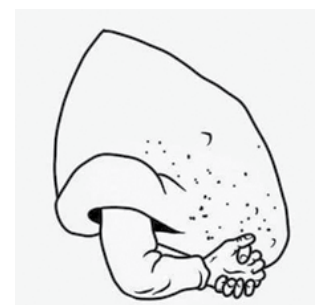

- Majda Alisa Filipovic - to do as we are told by our government's bosses - the Israel lobby and USA.
- Sam Ba - Jewish rat invest in a toothbrush.
- Rita Woodland - Sheeple have no idea how vicious the Israelis are. Oh that's right not allowed to freely speak your mind about Jewish greed.
- Abdullah Hussein - Boo hoo Jews... still complaining...give it a rest already.
- Paul Curtin - He's listened to boy blunder his L plate Jew treasurer!!
- Nicko Chillin - He we go again! Jews telling politicians what to do and say!
- Linda Spence - And there goes one of the most outstanding candidates that Labor has had in many years who refused to grovel to the Jewish lobby. It shows just who is running the country.
- Guests: shame on you labour for bowing to Jewish coffers...
- Ramsey Hajaj - Shlomi Kaynan hit the showers son
- Michael Khalil - The Zionist lobby owns both sides of politics...

4. MAINSTREAM POLITICS

This section covers discourse and actions by individuals and parties holding seats in any parliament in Australia, regardless of political leanings or size. It also includes comments made by the members of the public on the social media pages of politicians. The Facebook pages of political parties and of politicians are open for posted comments by members of the public. It in no way suggests that those parties or politicians are antisemitic. Rather it shows that antisemites seek to have politicians and parties hear and provide a legitimate platform for their racist views.

Fraser Anning: Independent Senator for Qld

In a posted image on Facebook about immigration, Anning used a term that is commonly used by antisemites as a code for Jews: “globalist elites”. A comment underneath shows that at least one of his followers’ understanding of the code and called on Anning to “just name them”. The use of the triple parentheses ‘echo’ symbol is well understood as a reference to Jews.

Response to Melissa Parke: Nakba rally – “Israel lobby”

Melissa Parke, former Labor candidate for Curtin in the 2019 federal election, spoke at a Nakba rally, organised by the Friends of Palestine WA, in Perth on 25 May 2019. She stated:

- “I am not antisemitic. It is not wrong to say the Israel lobby has excessive influence in the Australian political system.”

While giving her speech, a protester yelled out:

- “But why did you cave in to the Zionist lobby? We have to fucking wipe them out!”

The following comments were posted on the social media pages of political figures:

- Rodger G Salisbury - LOL Jews were NEVER GASED in the first place.
- Bacob Berman - Lmfao y'all niggas so mad. Up the chimney!
- Clayton O'Brien - "We'll report you to the judenpresse and your employer!" "We are the #resistance" Pick one, r-tards
- Oscar Iseult - careful there goy, starting to sound like an anti-Semitic canard

5. MAINSTREAM SOCIETY

Although most Australians are tolerant and easy-going, and observe the Australian ethos of giving people a “fair-go”, there are segments of society which exhibit and express antisemitism in various forms. Some examples follow of mainstreaming or downgrading (and not necessarily intentionally) of antisemitism:

Paul Bauert: those “condemned to the gas chamber, at least found some sense of relief”

A paediatrician in Darwin, Dr Paul Bauert, of the Australian Medical Association, in reference to a Bill proposing new procedures governing medical transfers from offshore detention, compared victims of the Holocaust about to be murdered in gas chambers to asylum seekers in Australia’s offshore detention centres, when he stated on Sky News on 11 February 2019:

“... the main problem these people [asylum seekers] have is the lack of meaning, the lack of any end to what is going on. A lack of certainty. And this more than anything causes severe mental health damage. Even those that finally knew they were about to be condemned to the gas chamber, at least found some sense of relief in knowing what was happening.”

Note: Dr Bauert subsequently retracted and apologised for the comment.

Dromana Secondary College: Zyklon B canister and swastika cake

A staff member of Dromana Secondary College, in Melbourne, brought Nazi memorabilia, including Nazi uniforms and badges, a knife and a gun, to a class for a history lesson in the school, in October 2018. The staffer also brought in a homemade cake with a swastika embedded on top, and a replica Zyklon B gas canister, used to gas Jews.

6. ANTISEMITIC ORGANISATIONS

There are many types of groups and organisations operating within Australia which openly espouse and promote an antisemitic ideology, sometimes intermixed with white supremacist and other racist themes. Many of them are small groups consisting only of a website or a Facebook page, run by no more than a handful of people, while others have a larger membership. However, their influence or popularity online can be out of all proportion to their meagre number of members.

These organisations and groupings are primarily focused on articulating and promoting societal fears, hatreds and resentments, the targets of which vary according to social conditions, but have typically included groups seen as ‘the other’. These include immigrants, Australians of Asian, African, Indigenous or Muslim background, and the perennial ‘other’, Jews.

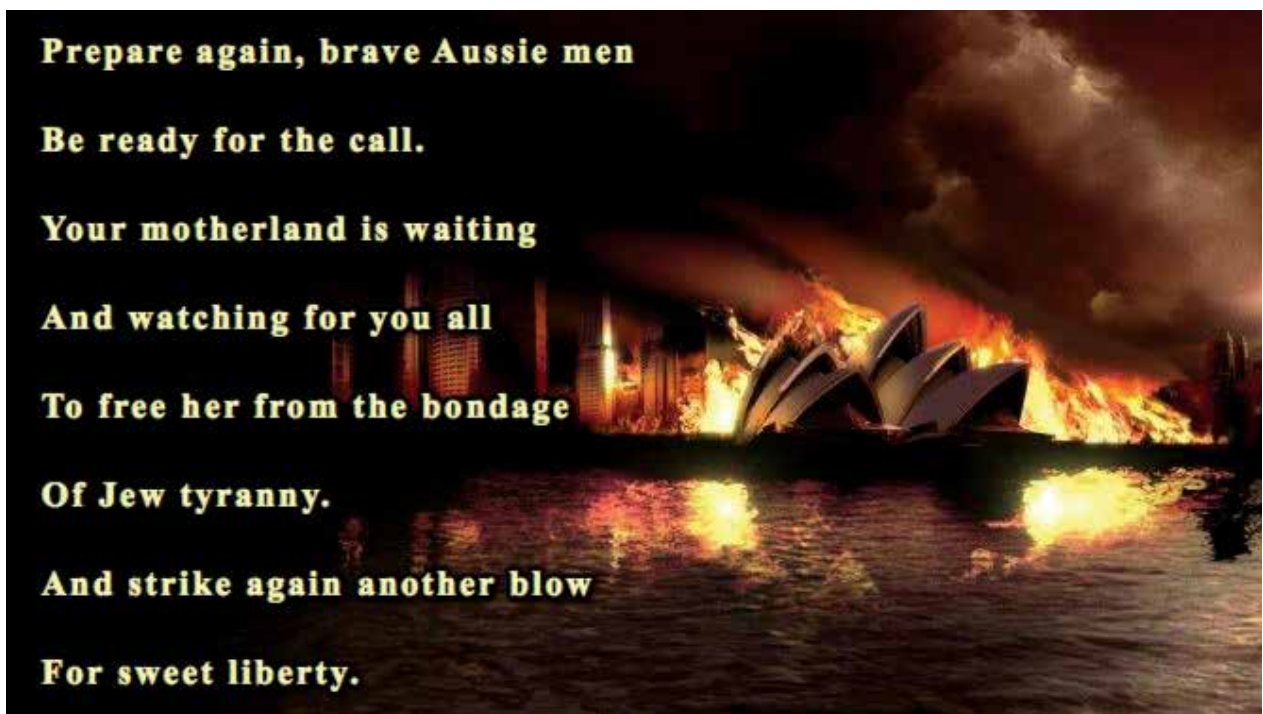

Some groups subscribe to conspiracy theories about a monolithic Jewish people who conspire together to exercise inordinate power over the world’s governments, banks and media. The level and type of activities engaged in by these hate groups vary, as does their public profile. Some ‘stick to themselves’ as a support group of like-minded people, while others have stood candidates in elections for government.

The far-Right in Australia comprises many disparate groups. Often followers of these groups have split off to form new groups with other like-minded individuals. This has been a recurring theme within the far Right. Several years ago, activists in the far-Right typically targeted Muslims and Islam. Nonetheless, they also usually maintained an anti-Jewish ideology and agenda, often combined with white supremacist, anti-immigration and anti-multiculturalism beliefs. It was not uncommon for them to “blame the Jews” for “Muslim immigration”. More recently, many of these formerly anti-Islam activists have become openly antisemitic and pro-Nazi. Some active individuals have dropped anti-Muslim sentiments and some have even advocated working with Muslims against Jews.

However, antisemitic and other extremist activity has changed over the years. It was once primarily sourced from actual organisations of people meeting and acting together. It is now primarily sourced from virtual groups of “online communities” consisting of like-minded people who may never meet physically but combine together to disseminate hate propaganda online, and reinforce one another’s extremist views, sometimes with violent, and even murderous, consequences.

7. ANTISEMITISM ONLINE

Since the advent of the internet, avowedly antisemitic organisations and individuals have been able to express and propagate their views on websites, video channels, social media platforms, and even via online mainstream media sites.

The internet provides a relatively cheap and easy means of publication, giving anyone with a computer potentially a global reach. Items posted on the internet are potentially accessible not just in one local area or country, but throughout the world.

With the internet, vilification and other forms of racism are easily and widely propagated, often with few restraints, and often anonymously. Internet publishers have operated with far less stringent editorial guidelines and standards than those which constrain publishers in the print and electronic media. Even websites ostensibly espousing an anti-racist agenda often fail to uphold their own principles when it comes to vilification of Jews, whether directly or with regard to the State of Israel.

8. FEATURE: THE “WHITE- REPLACEMENT” IDEOLOGY

The “White Replacement” Ideology, sometimes referred to as “White Genocide”, has become one of the most prominent themes being propagated online by the political far right.

“White Replacement” refers to the false belief that there is a global conspiracy, usually described as orchestrated by “the Jews,” to “import” non-Europeans - especially Africans, Asians and Arabs - into “white” societies in Europe, North America and Australasia for the express purpose of subjugating and decimating the European races and destroying Western civilisation. Those who subscribe to the “White Replacement” myth believe that through such mass immigration, people of ethnic European background will become a minority group, outnumbered and dominated - that is, replaced - in countries where once they were a majority of the population.

This concept is often twinned with the idea of Cultural Marxism. The “Cultural Marxism” thesis is a conspiracy theory claiming that Jewish academics associated with the Frankfurt School of social theory and philosophy conceived a plot to undermine and destroy European Western culture. This plot is said to be implemented through the promotion of equality, human rights, civil rights, feminism, homosexual rights, abortion, multiculturalism, secularism and internationalism. In this way, “Cultural Marxism” is portrayed as the ideological weapon by which “traditional” Western societal values and national identities are being undermined, and the resilience of “white people” to maintain their own traditional culture is being diminished.

Those who subscribe to the “White Replacement” myth often see the solution in terms of what they term “White Revolution” and “Race War.” They often advocate violence, followed by more violence, with the aim of instigating a civil war in western countries between the majority ethnic Europeans and the various minorities of non-European ethnicity. Acts of terrorism and mass murder, such as occurred at the synagogue in Pittsburgh in 2018 and the mosques in Christchurch in 2019, aim at sparking this “Race War.” The ultimate aim is the “ethnic cleansing”, by deportation or murder, of all people who are not of European ethnicity from Europe, North America and Australasia.

Online comments by Australian subscribers to the white-replacement theory include:

- Adolf Göbbels: ... kikes use it to make money off of us Goy to use it to flood the western world with islamic rats and African niggers.!
- Blair Cottrell: ... the propagation of an unrelenting hatred of white people ... are accomplishing nothing but the gradual ethnic destruction & replacement of white people world-wide...
- Brenton Tarrant: "The invaders must be removed from European soil, regardless from where they came or when they came. Roma, African, Indian, Turkish, Semitic or other. If they are not of our people, but live in our lands, they must be removed ... How they are removed is irrelevant, peacefully, forcefully, happily, violently or diplomatically. They must be removed."
- Dean Anderson: Many in the west seem to think that jews are behind their replacement. And they'd be right.
- Fred Grenouille: ... the Muslim problem has been created in Australia, the UK and in Europe, by the Jewish international as part of the plan for world government.
- Jamie Jae: Australia was White until very recently but the large corporations understand (((The Great Replacement))) is happening.
- Kurt Taylor: ... the Jews are conducting a genocide against Whites, day in day out. We must fight back - we must target each and every Jew.
- Matty Rose: Meanwhile, our countries are being stolen from us via mass-immigration, pushed by a (((certain tribe))) that control the money supply. ...
- Mitch Bowden: Muslims are about as sentient as a rabid dog, it is the jews polluting and bombing their kennels forcing them into our countries. Once the boomers are gone we can get back to erasing jew filth.
- Raymond Foster: J*ews are Behind White Genocide.
- Ryan Fletcher: This #WhiteGenocide is a product of the subversive hand of the #Jew, and these kikes must be physically removed!
- Shermion Burgess: Hook nosed Jewish parasites admit that they flood Western nations with mass immigration to bring about TOTAL WHITE GENOCIDE so they can continue to rule the world... #hitlerwasright

9. CHRISTIAN SOURCES

In general, mainstream Christians in Australia have not published overt and vile antisemitic expressions of the kind that have been expressed by some Christian clerical figures in Europe and the Americas. There were no known incidents of overt antisemitic rhetoric or activity from within mainstream Christian communities in Australia during the period in review.

However, the following items provide a snapshot of rhetoric by mainstream Christian clerical figures which in our view met certain of the criteria in the IHRA Working Definition.

Bishop George Browning:

Bishop George Browning is the former Anglican bishop of Canberra and Goulburn and is President of the Australia Palestine Advocacy Network (APAN). Two of his articles are included here.

George Browning: 10 Days in the Palestinian Territories

This article, without a shred of evidence, accused the ECAJ of being behind the cancellation of a visa to Australia for a Palestinian, Bassem Tamimi. In point of fact, the ECAJ made no representations about the visa. Browning then accused “a Lobby” of being able to “cower Australian media and politicians alike.”

“Dear ECAJ, ... I was reminded that Bassem had been invited to Australia only to find that when he reached the Amman international airport his Australian visa had been cancelled, presumably on advice from you guys to the Australian government. Bassem asked me who was the freest, himself who stands up against oppression or an Australian like me who is afraid to stand up against a Lobby that manages to cower Australian media and politicians alike. ...”

Father Rod Bower - Parish of Gosford:

Father Rod Bower, of the Anglican Parish of Gosford, in central NSW, frequently speaks publicly on political and social issues, predominantly in support of refugees and Australians who he believes are treated unfairly. He has not published anti-Jewish rhetoric or engaged in anti-Jewish activity. However, in December 2018, Father Bower posted a photo of the billboard, which contained the text of “Manus is how the Holocaust started”, outside his church, and on Facebook and Twitter. After much public criticism for the Holocaust minimization implicit in the billboard message, Father Bower apologised appropriately.

MUSLIM SOURCES

The Muslim communities within Australia are religiously, ethnically, and politically diverse. There are many excellent and successful interfaith programs and forms of dialogue between Muslims and Jews which seek to break down barriers and create better mutual understanding.

However, there are individuals and groups who identify as Muslims and who in the name of Islam express and promote anti-Jewish views, either from a religious or political perspective, or a confused amalgam of both. Some examples follow.

Al Quds – Melbourne:

‘Al Quds - Melbourne’ is a Shiite Muslim group, opposed to the existence of a Jewish State, and organises anti-Israel events, notably the annual Al-Quds Day protest in Melbourne. Its Facebook page contains material that meets the criteria of antisemitism in the IHRA Working Definition. Some examples follow.

- The documentary was never broadcast by Al Jazeera due to pressure from some Jewish groups and individuals.
- Petty attempt by Zionist shills and puppets to intimidate, our community Leaders who stand up for the Palestinian cause.
- What does Holy Quran tells us about ‘Bani Israel’?? How they were responsible for the killing of the Prophet’s?? Why was it only Imam Ali (as) who was able to challenge and defeat the ‘Bani Israel’ people?? What was the role of these oppressors in the advent of Islam, Battle of Khaybar, even the Tragedy of Karbala?? Finally, the continuation of their plots and conspiracies today in the form of Iraq Invasions, ISIS in Syria ...
[NB. “Bani Israel” is Arabic for “sons/children of Israel” and is commonly used to denote “Jews”.]

Censored Al Jazeera documentary exposing the Israel lobby in the U.S. (part 1 of 4). The documentary...

Hizb ut-Tahrir:

Hizb ut-Tahrir is an organisation which campaigns for the establishment of a caliphate (Islamic theocracy) in Australia and throughout the world. Some examples follow.

- The Jewish lobby in Australia according to two former Prime Ministers.
- protest to support the case of Al-Aqsa after the Zionists stormed into it and persecuted Muslims.
- The criminal Jewish entity continues to bomb innocents on the eve of Ramadhan in Gaza. ... Ya Allah swt your victory and the day the trees and stones will speak.
- As the occupying Jewish army is making life difficult for Muslims in Palestine to prevent them from going to pray in Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa during Ramadan

El-Telegraph:

El Telegraph is based in Melbourne, and claims to be “the largest and longest running Arabic newspaper publication in Australia”. Several published articles are highly antisemitic.

- “The Rothschild Family: The German-Jewish Rothschild family controls money. It is known that 99% of the world’s population is controlled by 1% of the world’s rich... The Rothschild family controls everything, even in one percent of the world’s rich.
- The Elders of Zion are deeply aware of the importance of the role that Israel is supposed to play in the region.

Farah News Online:

Farah is based in Sydney, and publishes in Arabic and English. Some of the articles published contained not just antisemitic content demonising Jews, but also included antisemitic conspiracy theories.

- Jews “to seek in the land corruption... and bribe... to spread the desires and oppressions and evil... all categories of vice... and all kinds of very cheap pleasures... with the intention of destroying the human race.”
- Jews “The[ir] characteristics of malice, slag, cheapness and greed and deception. And congenital and mental degeneration... and all have gathered in this category of humans [Jews]... Stubborn and elusive... he [the Jew] seeks with all his effort and strength .. to fight God and his messengers and prophets... and mock them... and even kill them !!!”
- Jews and Satan seek “the destruction of the human race... by all ways and means”
- The Jews “want to destroy religious and moral values... and break up social and family ties... and authentic connections of relations between people... and restrict it in food, drink and sex !!!”. Alsibai’ concludes his text by declaring triumphantly that “the children of Israel – the demons of mankind – control humanity, exploiting the weaknesses created in their bodies.”

All governments are legitimately the subject of criticism for their policies and actions, including the governments of Israel as much as those of Australia or any other country. However, some ostensible criticisms of Israel cross the line from ordinary political discourse into antisemitic hate speech. Often this is through demonisation, delegitimisation, and double standards used against Israel.

Other discourse, which is dressed up as ordinary political criticism, is framed within older anti-Jewish motifs, especially the Blood Libel, deicide claims, and conspiracy theories of Jews as a group supposedly controlling or aiming to control the media, economy, government or other societal institutions.

APAN:

The following are some of the comments posted on the Facebook page of APAN (Australia Palestine Advocacy Network).

- John Walker - But it is a fact that Australian politics is also controlled by the Zionist Jews of Australia. ...
- Unal Okutgen - Australian Jews pushing our politicians to control them with money .
- Arzu Minu - Too many zions in power , need to get them ALL out.
- Gerard Harris - Zionazi expansion...
- Todd Cawe - Zionists the new Nazis
- Arzu Minu - When, all governments are under zio rule, money talks
- Gerard Harris - Ultimately it will be the Human Family that will decide whether these people are the Chosen Ones.
- Kolin Thumbadoo - It is also an utter repudiation of the insidious, suborning influence of the Zionist lobby and their minions. ...
- Chris Leach - Zionism is a racist creed.
- Martin Cowan - Zionism "is" Nazism.....
- Dan Denigan - The mind boggles at the hypocrisy. And who are the first to remind us of the holocaust. The very perpetrators of today's genocide.
- Gerard Harris - Kristallnacht perpetrated by Zionazi State of Israel.

- Lyn Bender - Too horrible . Just like the Holocaust. Israel behaving like a Nazi state.
- Kon Ozal - Wow. On a scale of one to ten this is 3rd Reich.
- Chris Hall - There WILL be justice, with or without government help. Protect the innocent "de-activate" a Zionist thug.
- Sam Affara - Yep they forget what Hitler did to them.
- Andrew Watson - An absolute disgrace on Australian Labor Party's part, once the Party of free speech, democracy and human rights, now a servant of the Australian Jewish Lobby.
- Rachel Hunter - According to the bible it was the Jews that sold Jesus out and crucified him. Zionists are anti-Semitic and need to be called out.
- Malcolm Fitzgibbon - What Israeli is doing is totally not God's will, it is a greedy blood thirsty tribe of capital Jews who rely on drunks to do their will
- Sandy Hatton - The rest of the world are also Zionist owned, follow the 💰
- Adrian Lucifer - Not sure when exactly does this world wake up to the fact that these Khazarians are attempting to take over the entire planet???

Tim Anderson:

Tim Anderson was a senior lecturer at the University of Sydney, working there since 1998. He was prominently vocal against Israel, and later became a vocal supporter of President Assad of Syria. In October 2018, Anderson used an image of an Israeli flag with a Nazi swastika superimposed over the Jewish Star of David in course material for the 'Human Rights and Development' course. Anderson's employment was suspended by the University on 3 December 2018, and then terminated by an employment review panel on 8 February 2019. During this period, Anderson posted about this matter on Facebook and Twitter. This elicited many antisemitic comments and images.

- Ramon Gonzeals Leber - The Jewish lobby got Sydney unvcsty in. Back pokats.
- Stacey Lightfoot - Oh dear. As soon as you piss off the Zionists you are finished. (((academia)))
- Ross Vachon - It's spelled *swastika and the Star Of David now is worse.
- Michael Raymond FitzPatrick - The Jew occupiers of Palestine modus operandi is to murder men, women & children.

12. RESPONSES TO ANTISEMITISM

Major counters to antisemitism are public condemnations of it by those in various positions of leadership within the country, including politicians, academics, clergy, editors and journalists, businesspeople and trade unionists, and other community leaders.

In addition, government policies and legislation to discourage or restrict antisemitism, and other forms of racism, and to protect Jews and other targeted groups, play a major role in countering antisemitism. In addition to providing individuals and groups who are the targets of racism with the legal means to defend themselves, legislation plays an educative role by setting a community standard that conveys a strong message that public manifestations of racism are unacceptable.

When politicians publicly condemn antisemitism, this plays a crucial role in the fight against antisemitism, as it sets a community standard that antisemitism is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. The following are comments by Australia's national political leaders condemning antisemitism.

Scott Morrison, Prime Minister, Liberal, 19 July 2019:

“I’ll tell you what it’s a time to draw a line on, and it’s antisemitism. I mean, the scourge of anti-Semitic graffiti that we’ve seen in Melbourne just this year, it is absolutely sickening and disgraceful. ... Antisemitism has no place in this country.”

Anthony Albanese, Leader of the Opposition, Labor, 25 Sept 2019:

“Antisemitism is an ancient prejudice that had no place whatsoever in antiquity, let alone in the modern world. Yet, as we are constantly reminded, it is with us still. Not only is our Jewish community a part of the diversity that gives us our true strength as a society, you are such an intrinsic part of our nation that Australia without you is simply unimaginable. Antisemitism is a poison and we must all stand together against it.”

[This was a private communication to ECAJ, with permission to publish here.]

IHRA WORKING DEFINITION OF ANTISEMITISM

“Antisemitism is a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. Rhetorical and physical manifestations of antisemitism are directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals and/or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities.”

Manifestations might include the targeting of the state of Israel, conceived as a Jewish collectivity. However, criticism of Israel similar to that leveled against any other country cannot be regarded as antisemitic.

Antisemitism frequently charges Jews with conspiring to harm humanity, and it is often used to blame Jews for “why things go wrong.” It is expressed in speech, writing, visual forms and action, and employs sinister stereotypes and negative character traits.

Contemporary examples of antisemitism in public life, the media, schools, the workplace, and in the religious sphere could, taking into account the overall context, include, but are not limited to:

- Calling for, aiding, or justifying the killing or harming of Jews in the name of a radical ideology or an extremist view of religion.
- Making mendacious, dehumanizing, demonizing, or stereotypical allegations about Jews as such or the power of Jews as collective — such as, especially but not exclusively, the myth about a world Jewish conspiracy or of Jews controlling the media, economy, government or other societal institutions.
- Accusing Jews as a people of being responsible for real or imagined wrongdoing committed by a single Jewish person or group, or even for acts committed by non-Jews.
- Denying the fact, scope, mechanisms (e.g. gas chambers) or intentionality of the genocide of the Jewish people at the hands of National Socialist Germany and its supporters and accomplices during World War II (the Holocaust).
- Accusing the Jews as a people, or Israel as a state, of inventing or exaggerating the Holocaust.
- Accusing Jewish citizens of being more loyal to Israel, or to the alleged priorities of Jews worldwide, than to the interests of their own nations.
- Denying the Jewish people their right to self-determination, e.g., by claiming that the existence of a State of Israel is a racist endeavor.
- Applying double standards by requiring of it a behavior not expected or demanded of any other democratic nation.
- Using the symbols and images associated with classic antisemitism (e.g., claims of Jews killing Jesus or blood libel) to characterize Israel or Israelis.
- Drawing comparisons of contemporary Israeli policy to that of the Nazis.
- Holding Jews collectively responsible for actions of the state of Israel.

ABOUT THIS REPORT

ECAJ

The Executive Council of Australian Jewry is the elected national representative organisation of the Australian Jewish Community. It is the peak body which sits at the apex, directly or through its constituent and affiliate organisations, of some 200 Jewish community organisations across Australia.

Antisemitism Reports

Each year, since 1990, the Executive Council of Australian Jewry publishes the Report on Antisemitism in Australia. Each report covers a twelve month period from 1 October to 30 September. The author of the annual ECAJ antisemitism reports, 2013-2019, is Julie Nathan.

The ECAJ records antisemitism in two broad categories: incidents and discourse. In general, incidents are what 'is done to' Jews, while discourse is what 'is said about' Jews. Nevertheless, it is recognised that the latter has a considerable influence on the former.

Current situation for Jews in Australia - Security

It remains true that the Jewish community's places of worship, schools, communal organisations and community centres need, for security reasons, to operate under the protection of high fences, armed guards, metal detectors, CCTV cameras and the like. This necessity is recognised by Australia's law enforcement agencies and arises from the entrenched and protean nature of antisemitism in western and Middle Eastern culture, resulting in a high incidence of physical attacks against Jews and Jewish communal buildings over the last three decades, and continuing threats.

HATE THAT STARTS WITH THE JEWS

NEVER ENDS WITH THE JEWS

“Fighting Antisemitism is a responsibility for the society at large and must not be left to the Jewish community. Antisemitism needs to be fought on all levels and by all possible actors.”

Katharina von Schnurbein,
EU Coordinator on Combating
Antisemitism //10 Feb. 2016

“Antisemitism, if left unchecked by governments, poses risks not only to Jews, but also to members of other minority communities. Antisemitism is toxic to democracy and mutual respect of citizens and threatens all societies in which it goes unchallenged.”

Ahmed Shaheed, UN Special
Rapporteur on Freedom of Religion or Belief //23 Sep. 2019

REPORT IT.

WHY REPORT IT?

As the elected representative national body of the Australian Jewish community, the Executive Council of Australian Jewry (ECAJ), liaises with government, the media and law enforcement to help keep our community safe.

It is vital therefore that we have accurate data on antisemitic incidents, whether vandalism of property, verbal abuse, online threats, leaflets or posters, or acts of violence.

WHERE TO REPORT IT?

Incidents of antisemitism occurring in Australia can be reported directly to Julie Nathan, the ECAJ Research Director, and author of the annual Report on Antisemitism in Australia.
